Title: Internationalisation at home: ‘for whom’ and ‘for what purpose’?

The aim of this session is to debate the purpose and benefits of internationalisation at home (IAH). The leading questions of the session will be ‘Who is it for?’, ‘Who benefits from it?’ and ‘whether IAH enhances learning and promotes greater student academic engagement?’. The discussion will draw on the presenter's research into the experiences of international students to suggest possible answers to these questions. The session will finish with suggestions for staff working to support international students and research directions for future evaluations of IAH.
