Head, heart and hands – a biographical curriculum
Kath Bransby, Education Officer, Steiner Waldorf Schools Fellowship

The Steiner Waldorf Schools Fellowship works with Steiner schools to translate and articulate a 100-year-old curriculum tradition in the 21st Century. In her presentation, Kath will talk about some of the questions that this alternative model poses. Is it more important to learn about the curriculum, or through it? How can a curriculum meet the developmental needs of the child in a holistic way – ‘head, heart and hands - thinking, feeling and willing’? And can a curriculum support children and young people to make decisions about how they want to be in the world? (https://www.steinerwaldorf.org/)
